

POPPY JENNINGS

FULL-STACK DEVELOPER

ABOUT ME

The desire to know how web apps are created, integrated and scaled led me to a coding bootcamp, where I have transitioned from digital marketer to full-stack web developer.

Combining the skills of client consultation, account management, communication and prioritisation honed in my marketing career with my new found passion for adding flair to websites with JS/Stimulus, I keep the user experience at the forefront of my projects.

I am keen to build my skills and learn more. I love to help clients define and achieve their digital goals and exceed their expectations.

MY FORMER LIFE

In my previous career in marketing I described myself as:

A designer and implementer of targeted, measurable, omnichannel, go-to-market campaigns that galvanised market share, reached new markets and exceeded OKRs. I brought experience from the blue-chip companies Ascential/EMAP and PepsiCo to a start-up environment. I delivered three UK industry-leading, large scale B2B exhibitions as well as numerous international B2C events. Analytical and data-driven, with a specialism in website optimisation, marketing funnels and automation. Please visit my LinkedIn profile for full details of my achievements at my previous companies
